LIVES RUINED BY COCAINE

Dangerous Drug Which Is Extensively Used in This City.

OFTEN SOLD UNLAWFULLY

Its Terrible Effect Upon the Nervous System Described by Leading Physicians-Like Other Narcotics, Its Repeated Use Necessitates Gradual Increase of the Doses,

The rumor has gained currency that the sale of cocaine is spreading to an alarming extent. It is alleged that the nervedestroving stimulant has made such headway as to cause consternation in certain sections of the country-

The progressive nature of the cocaine habit was not apparent until recently, when attention was called to the matter by certain legislative enactments in Connecticut looking to the restriction of the sale of the drug in that State. It is alleged that the condition of affairs there, as regards the use of cocaine, is deplorable-

In Manchester especially the recognition of the value of the drug as a remedy for asthma has led to a notorious indulgence on the part of the inhabitants. Sindar reports are made as to other sections of the country-

Five years ago cocaine was an almost unknown quantity outside of the legitimate sphere of positicine. Even in the hospitals and among physicians It was used but sparingly, and except in hospitals only upon a physician's certificate.

Now, it is alleged, the drug may be obtained at almost any pharmacy upon a simple request of the purchaser, and its sale has become an exil that needs prompt restriction. Immediate legislative action is considered necessary to correct it in its

The principal applicants for the drug are the victims of insomina-it is positively asserted that the drug at the outset exerts a temporary relief, but as in the case of all excessive stimulants and marcolies, its after effects are disastrous to the mental and physical systems of the baldtucs.

wrecks mind and body and ensigves Its victims more effectually than its kindred drugs, morphine, laudanum or oplum-Its sale notwithstanding, it is said, greatly exceeds the demand for any other sleep producing drug-

The horrors of the morphine habit, so graphically described and philosophically discussed by De Quinex in his "Confessions of an Opium Enter," have caused sundry shivers to traverse the length of many a spitial column, but the wildest imagination would fast to approximate the reality of that purgatory into which the wretched victim of the cocaine habit nioft on a cloud, golden tinted, rose-scented and luxurious. Dreams of the most exalted exhibitation flit through the wears brain. Fatigue and sorrow are lost in maze of delightful fancies. The victim is enveloped in an atmosphere of exquisite poesy and is drawn gently upward, far from the things that are of the earth,

But the inevitable reaction comes, and the dreamer is buried downward into an abyse in comparison with which Dante's "Inferno" is a grand opera matinee. Cocaine is distantly related to the comon cocon We drink, but its qualities are of a distinctly different nature. It appears at first in the shape of white crystals, which, on application to the tongue, produce a tingling, burning semanumbbess all over the body. The drug, locally applied, is a strong anasthetic.

In order to lay or confirm the suspicions as to the prevalence of the drug in this city a Times reporter last night interviewed several leading druggists on the subject. They were unanimous in the opinion that the use of the drug has not reached male is generally restricted to the hospitals, and in a legitimate medicinal way. It was, of course, unknown to them whether the applications for the drug at their several stores were for proper purposes of not, but so far as they had observed the sale was inconsiderable in any taken in the sale of the stimulant resulted in the reply that some few years ago a pharmaceutical law was passed restricting the general sale of cocaine in the Dis-trict of Columbia, and that it was not known, of course, whether cocaine fiends accured the drug outside of the District.

Dr. John F. Winter, chairman of the board of commissioners of pharmacy, said that to his knowledge the drug was used only in a limited and legitimate way, and that there was no occasion for alarm in e premises.
"I have in mind one case," remarked a leading physician, in speaking of the co-caine habit, "that seems particularly said A young doctor of promising talents setaccumulated an extensive and remunerative practice. His skill was unquestion able, and patients flocked to him by scores

"A few years ago a slight change was noticeable in his appearance and characteristics. In place of the calm, dignific t and professional manner with which he treated his patients as well as his friends. his limbs were observed to undergo a continuous perceptible tremor and his eyes grew strange and staring. In course of time his need was found to be affected. "His patients began to desert him. His condition became more and more deplorable, and a year or so ago he sank into a lds brains out with a revolver. "The cause of the unfortunate n downfall was not far to seek. In fact, I was not very much surprised at his sail end, for I had observed that his indulgence in cocuine had assumed alarming propo-

With reference to the cocaine habit, a well-known army surgeon said to a Times reporter that long acquaintance and handthem a certain degree of contempt for its fatal qualities. While he would not say that the habit had reached general use among physicians, he knew it to be a fact that many doctors use it to alleviate the depressing Intigue resulting from over matters lends emphasis to his words said that if it were not a matter of honor on his part, he would tell the reporter of facts connected with the drug that would make end "like quills upon the fretful porcu-

"But you see how it is," he said; "if I gave out information I should lose business. However, I will say that cocaine is used in this city more than people have any Inquiry at several of the leading pharms cies elicited the startling information that over some counters the drug is sold sub use of the drug in this city, rosa; over others openly. In some drug stores a register of cocaine applicants is kept, and a knowledge thereby acquired of the identity of steady cocaine frends.

A curious fact in connection with the use qualities. Some druggists assume it to American.
